

File service

With the file service it is possible to place and publish files into content and applications. All file types are supported, the files are presented as small or large icons including for example file name, size, description, owner and creation date. Share with user groups by using Xsdot's Security & authentication system. Files are furthermore used in design templates as design elements.

