

CRM user groups

The CRM user groups are used for instance to define management groups, customer groups and employee groups. User groups can be freely created and structured in Xsdot's applications and are further used in other Xsdot services like eCommerce, Financial services and Content management.

