

User information & settings

After a user is authenticated on a site, the user can review and maintain his own information and settings online. One can think of company, shipping and invoice addresses; user, mailing, community and e-commerce settings.

