

Online support and mail services

This service enables a customer or relation to request support tickets online, an administrator or employee can reply to the requested support items. All support items are emailed to both parties and are stored in a database for further processing.

