

Local online backup service

The local backup services is a standard backup facility that prepares a daily backup on a server locally. The prepared backup is used to be stored on backup tapes or other storage devices.

