1. Hurricane Killer

Votes: 2+

By: haggf | 4-Nov-2009 | 15:38 | Mail idea | Print idea | RSS

The Hurricane Killer is an array of small, controllable hurricanes that "eat the food" of possible large natural hurricanes, which will not occur due to lack of "food".

2. Twistower

Votes: 4+

By: haggf | 22-Sep-2009 | 15:10 | Mail idea | Print idea | RSS

The Twistower is an ultra light floating and rotating tower which can be applied by a solar updraft tower. In principle the tower is a stable twister bound by a rotating thin walled hollow cylinder.

3. Recusol™, central air heater

Votes: 8+

By: Innovy | 1-Apr-2009 | 10:57 | Mail idea | Print idea | RSS

The Recusol™ is a sustainable and cheap central air heating system, which consumes only energy for a small fan, which in most cases already is available in a building. The Recusol™ is a recuperator and a solar collector that recovers both energy from waste ventilation air and from (sun) light....

4. Femtholon, a new fundamental particle model

Votes: 6+

By: haggf | 10-Feb-2009 | 21:56 | Mail idea | Print idea | RSS

A femtholon represents mass and is a hole in the substance that carries light. At severe collisions light can create femtholons and can orbit around them. The femtholon is a stable particle if the light wave can form a stable standing light wave, from which the forces are in equilibrium with the forces to maintain the hole.
