

Community voting

When enabled, visitors or community members can vote on messages and articles. Voting on a message increases or decreases the popularity of an article or message and the publisher.

