

News component

A news component represents a framework for creating news items. News items are for example published in the web site as RSS feeds or news lists.

This component is deprecated and normally replaced with the community components that include news functionalities and more.

